

Knowing Your Character and Making The Right Decisions

1. You find $200.00 inside of a wallet with ID in it. What do you do with the money? What do you do with the wallet?
2. You failed to study for a test that could mean you not passing the class. What do you do?
3. You arrive at work 45 minutes late. What do you say to your boss?
4. A stray animal follows you home, but you can't have animals in your apartment. What do you do?
5. You just failed an important test. What do you say to your parent?
6. What do you like to do in your free time?

7. You don't have enough money to buy something that you really want. What do you do?

8. You just got a speeding ticket while driving your parent's car and they told you that if you got a ticket the car privileges would go away. What do you do?

9. Your parents don't like the person you are dating and tell you they can't come around. What do you do?

10. A grandparent buys you something that you don't like. What do you do?

11. You break a window in the front of your house, but nobody saw it happen. What do you do?

12. You see a car run over a cat. What do you do?

13. Your best friend comes to your job where you are a cashier and asks you to borrow money for her grandma's medication. She tells you that if she doesn't get her medication, she will die. You don't have any money to give your friend. What do you do?

14. You are given too much change at the drive thru. What do you do?

15. You are a cashier at a fast food restaurant and your drawer comes up $10.00 short. What do you do?

16. Your friend wants you to drive the get away car when they rob a convenience store. What do you do?

17. Your co-worker's errors are affecting your work in a negative way. What do you do?

18. If you were to gain a large sum of money (via inheritance, a lawsuit, or a lottery). How would you spend it?

19. Your best friend tells you that they are thinking about running away from home and asks you not to tell anybody. What do you do?

20. Your best friend tells you that they are being abused by their father and they are afraid to tell anybody because their father will make things worse. What do you do?